

MIDWEST
FOODS

Industry Recall: Midwest Foods is NOT Associated

Church Brothers/True Leaf Farms Voluntarily Recalling Select Chopped & Shredded Romaine Products due to Possible Bacterial Pathogen

August 12th, 2019

Church Brothers/True Leaf Farms is voluntarily recalling select chopped and shredded Romaine Products due to possible bacterial pathogen. The product that is subject to this recall contains the Run Numbers:

225144

or

225125

Midwest Foods is NOT Associated with this recall. We do not carry the affected product. Church Brothers/True Leaf is urging anyone who has received the product to dispose of it in a manner that prevents consumption and to document destruction process. DO NOT serve or consume the product. You can reach out to Church Brothers for more information about destruction of product and credits if you received this product from them. We are attaching their information on identifying run numbers to this notice for your information.

At this time, no illnesses have been linked to this recall.

Once again, Midwest Foods is NOT Associated with this recall. If you have any questions feel free to reach out to your Business Development Associate or contact customer service at 773.927.8870.

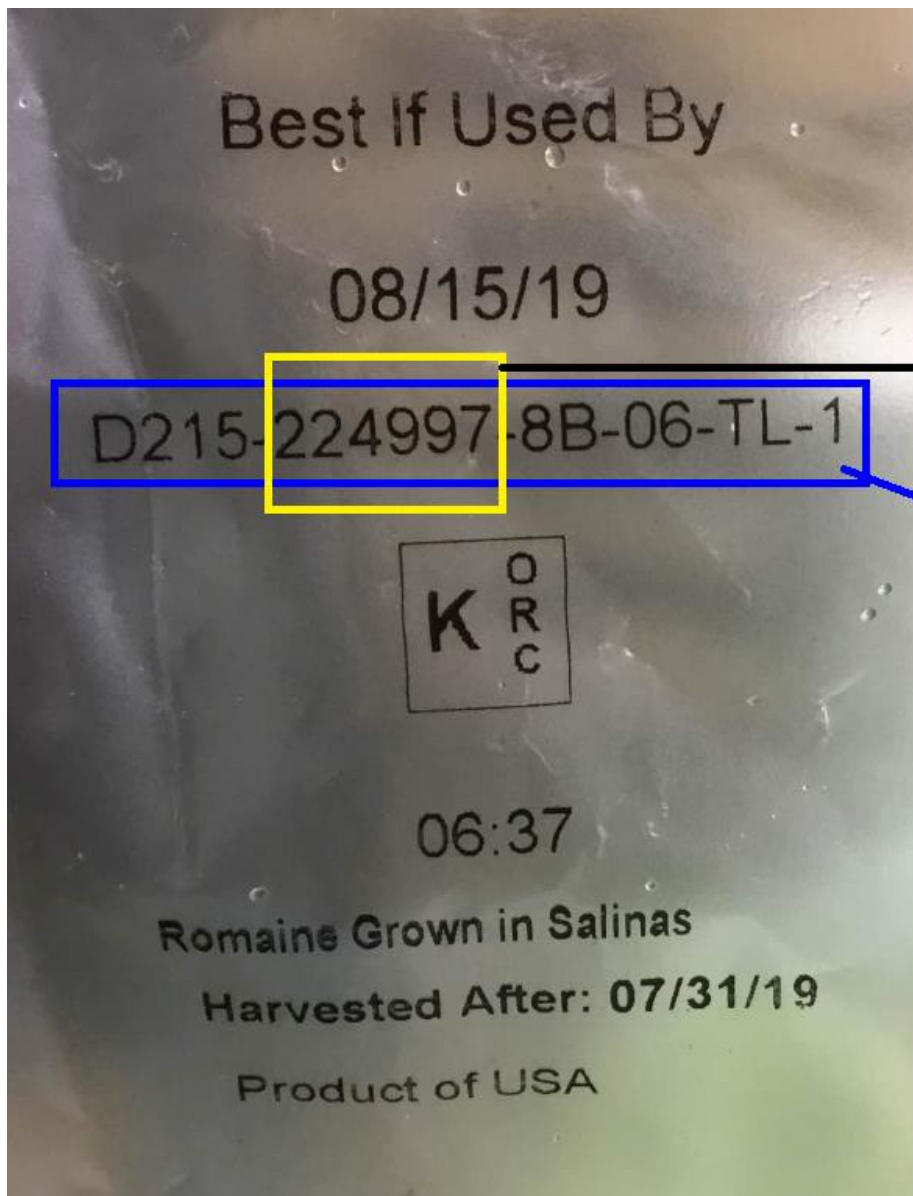

More information can be obtained from Church Brothers
by reaching out to them at:
FoodSafetyQuestions@churchbrothers.com or during week days at 831.796.1000

CARTONS: How to identify Run Number on cartons of Foodservice Romaine

RUN NUMBER
Look for Recalled Run Numbers:
225144
225125
Full Manufacture Code

BAGS: How to identify Run Number on bags of Foodservice Romaine

RUN NUMBER
Look for Recalled Run #s:
225144
225125
Full Manufacture Code