INDUSTRY RECALL: Guan's Mushroom Co Recalls Enoki Because of Possible Health Risk

Midwest Foods is NOT involved in this recall

April 22nd, 2021

Guan's Mushroom Co of Commerce, CA is recalling all cases of its 200g/7.05-ounce packages of Enoki Mushroom (Product of China) because it has the potential to be contaminated with Listeria monocytogenes. The potential for contamination was noted after routine testing by Michigan Department of Agriculture and Rural Development revealed the presence of Listeria monocytogenes in 200g package of Enoki.

The recalled products were distributed from CA, NY, PA through produce distributors or wholesalers to retail stores nationwide. The distribution of the product has been suspended.

The Enoki comes in a 200g/7.05ounces, clear plastic package with the description "Enoki Mushroom" in English, Korean and French, and Guan's logo in the front. At the back, there is UPC code: 810023170303. Product code is RY3428A or RY3434A in the front bottom. The product is being shipped in a white cardboard box with 25 pcs of 200g. The box contains Guan's logo in blue color and product code RY3428A or RY3434A.

No illnesses have been reported to date in connection with this problem.

Consumers who have purchased 200g packages of Enoki are urged to return them to the place of purchase for a full refund. Consumers with question may contact Guan's Mushroom Co. at 323.223.1188.

Once again, Midwest Foods is NOT involved in this recall. If you have any other questions please reach out to your Business Development Associate or contact customer service at 773.927.8870.
