

MIDWEST
FOODS

INDUSTRY RECALL: Global Veg Corp Recalls Aviator Brand Sundried Tomato Halves due to Potential Undeclared Sulfites

Midwest Foods is NOT Affected

December 13th, 2023

Aviator Label, Source: FDA.Gov

Global Veg Corp is recalling all 5 lb packages of “AVIATOR Sundried Tomato Halves” due to potential undeclared sulfites, which was discovered during routine sampling. People who are sensitive to sulfites may have a bad reaction to this product. All lots and codes which come in a 5 lb vacuum bag are affected. No illnesses have been reported in connection with this recall. Consumers should return product to the place of purchase for a refund.

The full recall announcement from the FDA can be found here.

If you need additional information about the recall please reach out to Global Veg Corp’s representative at 201.367.0517.

Once again Midwest Foods is NOT affected by this recall. If you have any questions or concerns, please reach out to your Business Development Associate or call Customer Service at 773.927.8870.